New Dentist Committee Member Focus

By Christos Maltezos

Why I look forward to participating in organized dentistry?

Quite simply- to cherish professional interactions, learn and embrace positive changes in the field of dentistry. Science and technology in dentistry change rapidly and you need to keep up with these changes to allow yourself to become a better clinician and educator. By being an active member of such an organization, it allows me to accomplish such goals. Gaining knowledge and developing friendships will allow me to better relay information to new dentists and help perpetuate dentistry in a positive direction.

Outside of dentistry, my family time is very important to me. Finding the proper balance between private practice and family time is something that a new dentist will learn to be the most rewarding through their professional journey.

About Christos Maltezos, DDS.

Dr. Maltezos graduated with honors from the University of Alabama with a Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry and a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy. After playing professional soccer for two years, Dr. Maltezos attended Louisiana State University School of Dentistry and graduated in 2002. He then completed an Advanced Education General Dentistry certificate in 2003. He finally completed his post-graduate Endodontic Residency in 2005 at Baylor University in Dallas. Dr. Maltezos is a member of the South Carolina and American Dental Associations, the American Association of Endodontists, the American Board of Endodontics and the South Carolina and Charleston Dental Societies.

Dr. Maltezos was recently selected as a Top Dentist in Mt. Pleasant, SC by the International Association of Dentists (IAD). He was also voted the best Endodontist in Mt. Pleasant, SC by Mt. Pleasant magazine. He has published several articles in professional journals and has lectured on various Endodontic topics.

Dr. Maltezos is a Board Certified Endodontist and became a Diplomate of the American Board of Endodontics in 2013. Only about 20% of Endodontists are Board Certified nationally, making Dr. Maltezos one of only a few Board Certified Endodontists in the Lowcountry. In addition to private practice, Dr. Maltezos serves as professor at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston in the Department of Graduate Endodontics.

Dr. Maltezos and his wife, Mary, reside in Mount Pleasant with their daughters, Elizabeth, Sophia and Alexandra.

Medicare Action Required

Dentist that prescribe drugs covered under a patient's Medicare Part D plan will be required to take action and submit a Medicare Enrollment application or opt-out affidavit to Palmetto GBA by June 1, 2015, or earlier. Submission of one of these items in a timely manner ensures that Palmetto GBA has sufficient time to process your application or opt-out affidavits which will avoid your patient's prescription drug claims from being denied by their Part D plans beginning December 1, 2015.

Background: The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) finalized CMS-4159-F Medicare Program; Contract Year 2015 Policy and Technical Changes to the Medicare Advantage and the Medicare Prescription Drug Benefit Programs rule in May that requires all physicians and eligible professionals-including dentists-who prescribe Part D covered drugs to be enrolled in Medicare or opt out for those prescriptions to be covered under Part D. More details regarding the requirement can be found in the Dentist to Take Action: New CMS Initiative article.

You may also want to review some additional information regarding the opt-in/opt-out on the American Dental Association's website at http://success.ada.org/en/practice/medicare/medicare/opting-out-of-medicare. You will need to log in by using your ADA number in order to view this link.

Mrs. Mary McGregor Clary 1920-1992

Mary Clary was the much beloved Executive Secretary of the South Carolina Dental Association for 26 years. She was a very caring person who was extremely dedicated to her job and all the SCDA members. Mrs. Clary's efficiency and organizational skills were legendary in carrying out the daily functions of our association, as well as the Board of Governors meetings, committee meetings and the S.C. Dental Association's Annual Sessions. She loved the dental profession and how it was perceived by the general public. Mrs. Clary was indeed a true lady and was an exceptional pleasure to work with running the SCDA. She was a great cook who always provided exceptional meals for our meetings. Mrs. Clary always possessed an outstanding aura with her professionalism. She was always professionally dressed and looked like she had just left the beauty parlor. Our Association was extremely blessed to have Mary Clary as our Executive Secretary for 26 years of love and dedication to the profession of dentistry in South Carolina.

Mrs. Mary Clary

Mary Clary was born in Orangeburg, South Carolina in 1920 to Ernest Lamar and Edith Salley McGregor. She attended Columbia High School and graduated from the Davis Private Academy in Columbia. While at the University of South Carolina she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority and was a varsity cheerleader.

Mrs. Clary's early working career was with the South Carolina Highway Department and at the Richland County Commission for Public Works.

Mary Clary was very active in civic affairs. She served as president of the Emily Douglas Pre-School in the Shandon section of Columbia. Mrs. Clary was also a member of various parent- teacher organizations throughout her children's educational process. She expressed her patriotism in being a member of the following organizations: the Wade Hampton Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Colonial Dames, the Daughters of the American Colonists and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Clary was also a member of the United States Postal Service Auxiliary.

Mrs. Mary Clary's retirement with Dr. Phil Kennedy, SCDA President in 1985 the SCDA.

Mary Clary actively participated religiously at Shandon Presbyterian Church. She was a member of the Ray Riddle Sunday School Class, various ladies' prayer circles, Women of the Church, as well as being on a Pulpit Search Committee.

Mrs. Clary, despite a capacity loaded schedule with work, civic and church commitments, managed to enjoy several hobbies. Among these were playing bridge, spending time with her children and grandchildren, and enjoying the beaches of South Carolina.

In 1985 the South Carolina Dental Association honored Mrs. Mary Clary with a resolution electing her to become an Honorary Member of the SCDA.

Mrs. Clary was married to W. Ed Clary, and they had three children: William E. "Chip" Clary, Kitty Clary Goding and Shelley Clary Ray. Unfortunately Mrs. Clary succumbed to cancer in 1992.

Mary Clary blessed the South Carolina Dental Association with her many years of love and dedicated service. She was indeed a pleasure to work with during her 26 years as our Executive Secretary. Mary Clary will always be remembered for the organization, efficiency and dedication she exhibited for the SCDA.

President's Message

Dr. Gloria Pipkin

"Be grateful for what you have and stop complaining - it bores everybody else, does you no good, and doesn't solve any problems." (Zig Ziglar)

So guess what my theme is this month? Yup, that's right: Whining, complaining, excuse making, drama, apathy and general failure to "step up." I hope by the time this is published that I will have the opportunity to eat my words – I would like nothing better than that. As I write this article less than a month before our Annual Conference, and before we know it Dental Access Days (DAD) scheduled for August in Greenville, will be upon us; our response as an Association to both has been dismal. Attendance is down. Participation is lack luster. And when I call around to find out what the matter is, that's what I get: Drama, complaints, whining and excuses.

So what's up guys and gals? Are we really that lazy? That dispassionate? That apathetic? Don't we care about the things that make our profession dynamic, current and something we are proud of? Are we so self-centered that we can't see past whatever our little inconveniences and problems are on a daily basis, to put these aside for a bit and contribute to the greater good? I for one, hope not.

So, fascinated by this surprising and frankly disappointing response from some (not all, I am happy to say) of my most revered colleagues, I have spent the last couple of days researching what the media (OK, I admit it- mostly SOCIAL media) has to say about the phenomena of whining, complaining and excuse making. Here's what I have learned:

It seems that people who make excuses and complain a lot are the ones that hardly ever get anything important accomplished. And those that don't, are the ones that do great things. This has been shown over and over again. Cases on point;

- 1. Forbes reports that top selling sales professionals take full responsibility for their outcomes and seldom whine, complain or make excuses.
- 2. The Israelites wasted forty years murmuring and complaining in the wilderness, when they could have just obeyed God and entered into their Promised Land.

So why DO we complain? Well, for one thing, complaining can be cathartic; that is, if you are a complainer. If you are not, then it's just energy sapping. People become complainers because they are seeking validation for their beliefs, or because they see it as a way to find common ground or simply because it's a habit. It is a behavior that easily becomes self-replicating – the more we complain, the easier it is to continue and very soon it becomes almost invisible to us. We don't even hear ourselves complaining. We think of it as justifying but it's usually just making an excuse for avoiding something. Pretty soon we don't get asked to do anything because everyone knows the response will just be another complaint.

If any of this sounds familiar, or strikes a chord, then pay attention: Folks who complain on a consistent basis have poorer health, are underachievers in their jobs, and their personal relationships are shorter and less satisfying. I didn't make this stuff up, it's been proven over and over again. High performing and successful people look in the mirror and decide what they have to do to change things for the better, while underperformers and avoiders take their comfort in blaming others for bad results. Which group do you fall into?

I'd like to propose a little experiment for the next couple of months – every time one of us complains or makes excuses about why we can't contribute our time or energy, or join in on the discussion of issues that affect us all – let's agree to put $1 into a pot. If you don't have the $1 then write an IOU. Whatever we have in the pot in August, we will donate to the efforts of DAD. We will each need to make a decision to want to stop complaining and making excuses for not stepping up – and hold each other responsible when we fall short on that commitment. So by the time DAD comes around we will either have a lot of volunteers or a big pot of dollars to hand them instead; either way, we all win – and all give.

I'm still hopeful that the attendance and volunteerism will increase before the conference April 30th to May 3rd. I'll certainly be reporting on our progress as whiners or winners in next month's newsletter.

Children's Life Insurance

By Mark Brown

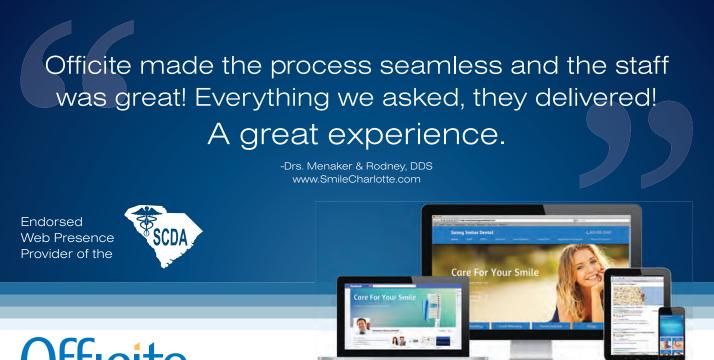

Do you have a child or grandchild who has a birthday coming up soon and you are interested in getting them something more than just another toy that they will forget about in a week or two? Perhaps you should consider giving the gift of life insurance.

It's more common than most think. Some individuals grow up having a permanent life insurance policy that either their parents or grandparents purchased for them at a young age and they don't realize it until later in life. These policies have many great benefits to them and can be used to build the financial foundation for our loved ones.

Most of the time when purchasing life insurance for a child we use a Whole Life policy. This allows the policy's cash value to grow throughout their life by utilizing dividends paid into their policy. The cash value is a "living benefit" to the policy and can be accessed at any time. It works similar to a savings account with an added life insurance benefit that can be used to protect their future family.

On top of the cash value growing in the policy throughout their life, the death benefit can also continue to grow. So even if you start with a $100,000 policy on a 1 year old child it's realistic that the policy can grow to over $650,000 and have a cash value of over $300,000 by the time they reach 60. These policies also have optional riders that allow the child to purchase additional insurance down the road without going through medical underwriting. This can be extremely beneficial for families that commonly have health issues later in life; such as diabetes, cancer or heart disorders.

If you are interested in reviewing your options for giving the gift of life insurance, please contact our endorsed insurance specialists at Withers Crest by clicking here. You can also call them at 843-732-3304 or email them at jwwithers@witherscrest.com.
